STATE-OF-THE-ART TECHNIQUES

You'll want to attend this seminar because you will learn the newest advances in empirically based Solution-Focused Brief Psychotherapy and Neuro-Linguistic Programming. You will use these cutting edge procedures to help your clients transform negative thinking, abolish intrusive memories, modify inappropriate emotional responses and change undesirable behaviors

These groundbreaking interventions offer extraordinarily brief ways to help people overcome the negative and toxic effects of bad memories, easily change unwanted feelings, stop procrastinating, and get highly motivated, often in a single session.

Overcome Negative Memories: Learn how bad or intrusive memories can be rapidly changed, while the positive values and lessons learned of the original experiences are maintained. Everyone has both good and bad experiences. However for some people, distressing events can lead to negative memories that they just can't seem to put out of mind. Now they can. Help people learn to solve these problems, make your clients happier, and enhance their lives.

Overcome Negative Thoughts and Feelings: Learn to use Dynamix Spin Processing™ an amazing rapid, revolutionary approach to help people resolve unwanted feelings and thoughts. You will learn several dynamic important additions to your clinical repertoire.

Overcome Procrastination: People often complain that their problem is procrastination. You will learn several new NLP strategies to help people become both proactive and highly motivated. These strategies use ground-breaking combinations of Submodalities, Visual-Kinesthetic Dissociation and future Rehearsal to achieve immediate, lasting results.

THE BENEFIT

These state-of-the-art methods can create profound and lasting changes, often in a single session. They are also very respectful of the client's integrity, and encourage clients to use their own personal resources and creative imagination to achieve desired results.

Your time is being limited... Both insurers and your clients want rapid results. The cutting-edge techniques taught during this workshop, will be valuable additions to your skill-base for achieving brief outcome-oriented psychotherapy.

What you want is excellent training . . .

American Hypnosis Training Academy instructors are fully committed to teaching. Therefore, the focus is on your learning and skill development.

The training both days will consist of lectures, demonstrations and exercises. Participants will practice with their colleagues to become comfortable utilizing these approaches when they go back to their offices and start using them with their patients or clients.

Who should attend? This workshop is open to mental health professionals, health care providers and graduate students in related fields .
